2019 iREAD: It's Showtime at Your Library!

It's Showtime at Your Library is an excellent summer reading theme for all of your patrons. Graphics and programs feature all types of performance, from movies and theater to puppetry, dance, poetry, videos, and more. iREAD® programming includes a wealth of original graphics, activities, reading lists, and more for children, teens, and adults.

As always with iREAD Summer Reading there is no membership fee required or time limit imposed. You can use the graphics and programming year-round to support your library!

This year's all-star lineup of illustrators have captured the glitz and glimmer, comedy, and adventure of SHOWTIME:

- Pre-K art by Kevan Atteberry
- Children's art by Gregg Schigiel
- Teen art by Dennis Pryber
- Teen art from Kill Shakespeare by Conor McCreery, Anthony Del Col, and Andy Belanger
- Adult art by Janet K. Lee
- Plus, an all-ages poster by Alexander Hage

The mission of iREAD is to encourage patrons to read for pleasure, and to help students maintain and improve their reading skills, encourage them to become lifelong readers and library users, and establish reading as a foundation for academic success.

As a coordinated, self-supporting effort developed by the Illinois Library Association and librarians, every purchase from iREAD helps to promote and assist the great work of libraries.

Thank you for supporting iREAD!

CHALLENGE COINS

Challenge coins are a highly respected military tradition for recognizing accomplishments and instilling a sense of belonging. The tradition of giving coins in the military goes back as far as the Roman Empire.

Traditionally a challenge coin bears an organization's insignia or emblem and is carried by the organization's members. They are given to prove membership when challenged, to enhance morale, and are also collected by service members. In practice, challenge coins are presented by unit commanders in recognition of special achievement by a member of the unit. They are also exchanged in recognition of visits to an organization.

Stories suggest that coins began to be used in a "challenge" after World War II, when U.S. military personnel adapted a German tavern tradition. If someone calls a "coin check," whoever does not have a coin buys drinks for everyone!

Every summer since 2013, iREAD has been producing a Summer Reading Challenge Coin for our partners in the Department of Defense—Morale, Welfare and Recreation (DoD-MWR) military installation libraries. We are pleased to offer the 2019 version to the public in celebration of It's Showtime at Your Library!

Kill Shakespeare, published by IDW Publishing, is a comic book series that pits the Bard's greatest heroes (including Hamlet, Juliet, Othello, Falstaff, Puck) against his most menacing villains (including Richard III, Lady Macbeth, Iago) in a quest to track down and kill—or save—a reclusive wizard by the name of William Shakespeare.*

Resource Guide Bonus
Kill Shakespeare:
The Dramatic Reading Script, and
Kill Shakespeare #1

Kill Shakespeare, published by IDW Publishing, is a comic book series that pits the Bard's greatest heroes (including Hamlet, Juliet, Othello, Falstaff, Puck) against his most menacing villains (including Richard III, Lady Macbeth, Iago) in a quest to track down and kill—or save—a reclusive wizard by the name of William Shakespeare.

These bonus posters, with artwork by Andy Belanger, accompany Kill Shakespeare: The Dramatic Reading included in the 2019 iREAD Resource Guide. Kill Shakespeare: The Dramatic Reading is a stage show that allows a comic book to come alive, combining images from the acclaimed comic book series, acting and music.*

I'm all for whatever transitions the book properly to a movie.

I regard the theatre as the greatest of all art forms, the most immediate way in which a human being can share with another the sense of what it is to be a human being.

Summer Reading Facts

- The benefits of summer reading are clear. National research from the American Library Association shows that students who participate in public library summer reading programs, attend higher on reading achievement tests at the beginning of the next school year than those who did not participate.
- Parents of children enrolled in the public library summer reading program report that their children spend more time reading over the summer, read more books, were well prepared for school in the fall, and read more confidently.
- Young people experience learning losses when they don't engage in educational activities during the summer. Research shows that over the summer, the (average) 10-year-old loses one standardized score point in the area of summer vacation than they do at the start of the beginning of the school. Children are at risk of this loss.
- To succeed in school and life, children and young adults need ongoing opportunities to learn and practice on a regular basis. Summer Reading Club programs help that reading is for fun as well as for learning.
- There's no mark to see, so much to do at your library? There's no better time to make your kids. The library is a place to learn, read and play that you share with the whole family. So go on. In fact, more than 10 million children attend library programs every year.
- Studies show that children who are read to at the home and who use the library participate better in school and are more likely to continue to use the library as a source of lifetime learning.
- The amount of time children spend reading outside of school is linked to their reading achievement. Research shows that parents, teachers and librarians who read to their children at home and in the library are more likely to have higher reading achievement.

Hechos sobre la lectura de verano

- Los beneficios de la lectura de verano son claros. La investigación nacional de la Asociación Estadounidense de Bibliotecas muestra que los estudiantes que participan en programas de lectura de verano en bibliotecas públicas, obtienen mejores puntuaciones en pruebas de logro de lectura al comienzo del próximo año escolar que los que no participaron.
- Los padres de niños que participaron en programas de lectura de verano en bibliotecas públicas reportan que sus hijos pasan más tiempo leyendo durante el verano, leen más libros, están mejor preparados para el inicio del año escolar y leen con más confianza.
- Los jóvenes que no participan en actividades educativas durante el verano pierden un punto estandarizado en el área de lectura al comienzo del año escolar. Los niños que participan en programas de lectura de verano pierden menos puntos estandarizados en el área de lectura al comienzo del año escolar que los que no participaron.
- Para tener éxito en la escuela y en la vida, los niños y jóvenes necesitan oportunidades para aprender y practicar con regularidad. Los programas de lectura de verano ayudan a que los niños practiquen su lectura y aprendan a leer con confianza.
- Hay mucho que leer y mucho que hacer en la biblioteca. No hay mejor momento que el verano para leer y jugar. La biblioteca es un lugar perfecto para compartir con toda la familia. Así que, ¡vamos! Más de 10 millones de niños asisten a programas de lectura de verano en bibliotecas cada año.
- Los estudios muestran que los niños que leen en casa y en la biblioteca pierden menos puntos estandarizados en el área de lectura al comienzo del próximo año escolar que los que no leen.
- La cantidad de tiempo que los niños pasan leyendo fuera de la escuela está vinculada a su logro de lectura. La investigación muestra que los padres, los maestros y los bibliotecarios que leen con sus hijos en casa y en la biblioteca tienen más probabilidades de tener hijos con mejores logros de lectura.
